DEDICATION

On the altars of ancient temples there burned a sacred flame, and the tenders of the fire kept earnest vigil that the blessing of its warmth might not be lost to the children of men.

Today the beam of education strikes the upturned faces of other firetenders, who through the driving rain of criticism and the devastating storm of depression have kept alive the embers, and even fanned into a flame the sacred fire of knowledge.

In grateful appreciation, the staff of the 1935 Tom Tom dedicates the results of its efforts, the twenty-seventh yearbook, to the members of the Board of Education of the Tulsa Public Schools; recognizing that they have at all times held sacred the best interests of the young people of Tulsa and have exemplified that high character and service to which this volume of the yearbook pays tribute.

FOREWORD

IN PREPARING the 1935 yearbook, the Tom Tom staff has endeavored to depict the progressive spirit of Tulsa Central High School, to trace the ideals of that institution as they grow into realities, and to compile a record which will in the years to come remind students and teachers of happy and profitable hours spent together in Central.

ADMINISTRATION

TO PLAN and to direct the manifold activities of Tulsa Central High School's faculty and students requires the unstinting service of a group of civic and educational leaders who, through their unusual ability and devotion to the educational ideas of progressive thinkers, have become nationally recognized for their efforts in building Tulsa's schools into one of the outstanding systems of the nation.

Just as a nation's character depends on that of its leaders, so does the character of an educational institution depend on that of its administration. Man grows by emulation. No fear need be felt for graduates of Tulsa Central High School so long as they continue to emulate the high standards of character and service exhibited by the administrators of Tulsa's schools.

Throughout the economic storms of recent years, these leaders have stood bravely in the face of the storm of opposition and pecuniary difficulties with never a thought of defeat. For the faithful service rendered by the seven members of the board of education, by the superintendent and his assistants, and by the executive staff of Tulsa Central High School, students are justly grateful.

Deans and Directors

THE DUTIES of the class directors are to organize the student body of their classes into units known as home room groups with a teacher in charge of each group; to hold monthly meetings to guide the work of the home room program; to consult with students about their course and plan of future activities; to consult with parents regarding the needs of their pupils, and to direct all extra-curricular activities of their respective classes.

The dean of boys, Mr. F. J. Reynolds, and the dean of girls, Mrs. Minnie Mae Summers, endeavor to help the students adjust themselves to the school, and seek to establish those customs which lead to better citizenship and to correct school conduct. They recommend lunch passes and special privilege passes. The dean of boys sponsors the Courtesy Service Club and the dean of girls sponsors the House of Representatives.

CLASSES

AWARE of the world's demands for citizens who are able to adjust themselves to the ever-changing social conditions, the students of Central High School eagerly utilize the increased scope of classroom activities. Encouraged by the intreest their school has shown in them and by the ceaseless energy of the faculty, Centralites are endeavoring to develop those desirable qualities which will enable them to play helpful roles in creating and maintaining an intelligent citizenry.

Realizing that scholarship is essential to every well-rounded life, the students of Central High School assemble daily in their beloved institution and endeavor to gain from its instruction all that is good and worthwhile in life. Earnestly they strive to discover the hidden knowledge to be found in books; sincerely they cultivate cordial friendships, and eagerly they seek to acquire the wisdom of the ages.

As the members of each class work toward the realization of their ambitions, they strive to exemplify the code of the good student, to study with a purpose, to practice accuracy, to work independently, and to realize no limitations in their search for wisdom. Thus they reflect credit on Central High School, the fostering mother of their ideals.

Members of the class of 1935 have been progressing toward the horizon of education for three years, setting new standards and attaining higher goals in character and service. They have entered into the pursuits of education and leisure with equal zest, demonstrating that they are talented, progressive, and earnest.

Under the sponsorship of their untiring and able directors, Miss Gertrude Rector in the sophomore year, and Mrs. Pauline Chase Baker in the junior and senior years, the students have been successful participants in the curricular and extracurricular activities, and have achieved new scholastic standards. In the music, art, and athletic departments their talents have been displayed, and demonstrations of their dramatic abilities have been made in the class productions, The Patsy, Peg O' My Heart, Icebound and Standing as leaders and scholars at the head of their class, Charles Bright, Carl Swan, and J. W. Busby, the three class presidents, have endeared themselves to their classmates by their true worth. Using as guides the ideals and standards of Central high school, the seniors of 1935 have a firm foundation for their ventures into the field of higher education.

Junior Class

PAUSING for an instant near the wind-swept peak of higher education, members of the largest junior class ever to have enrolled in Central high school look backward down the path of achievement which marks their progress up the mountain, and turn again to the summit with proud and hopeful hearts to meet the rising sun.

Guided by their counselors, Miss Lulu B. Beckington, Miss Isabelle Watkinson, and Mrs. Maude Wendt, and by their youthful leaders, Marcella Gammon in the sophomore year, and Charles Roelke in the junior year, the students of the class of 1936 count among their honors the class productions of Come Out of the Kitchen, in their sophomore year, and Show-Off and Taming of the Shrew in their junior year.

Ever alert and prepared, they are fully capable of assuming the responsibilities of the senior class, of carrying on the standards and ideals of their predecessors, and of realizing the accomplishment of their own aspirations.

Sophomore Class

TAKING a great stride in the march of education the class of 1937 begins its journey toward the goal of educational perfection with well-rounded faculties and determined faces.

The first year in high school is the test of endurance in secondary education, and under the skilled direction of Miss Gertrude Rector and her assistants, Miss Lela S. Copeland, Miss Maude Lourey, and Miss Lucille Adams, and Wesley Watson, class president, the seniors of 1937 have made a flying start toward their goal.

It is in the sophomore year that friendships and contacts are formed which last throughout high school, college, and ofttimes adult life. It is here, too, that the spirit of unity and fellowship blends into harmonized conception.

Manifesting that they have developed characters comparable to those of other classes of Tulsa Central high school, the sophomores have seized every opportunity to maintain the standards set for them by their predecessors. With Daddy Long Legs, their play, they contributed to the enjoyment of the whole school.

ATHLETICS

ATHLETICS

JUST AS every worth while achievement is the last step of many combined efforts, so the development of scholarship must wait upon that mental and physical harmony that comes from a healthy body, and because of this, athletics have assumed an important role in the high school.

Friendly contacts on the gridiron, on the mat, the cinder track, the courts, the diamond, on the maple wood, and in the pool, instill in students marked ability and afford them an opportunity to act with rapid precision, and to exercise judgment in a sportsman-like manner. Preparation for these sports include extensive training periods during which time Centralites build up their prowess until they are invincible. It is the work of these Braves which has made the name of Tulsa Central high school feared and respected in athletic circles throughout Oklahoma.

Thus Centralites, undergoing beneficial training, discipline, and conflict are prepared to square their shoulders and put their established traits into practice.

THE 1934 football team was captained by Kenneth Knight and coached by Harold L. James. The Braves began the season by a 26-0 victory over the Claremore Zebras and a 25-0 win over the Sapulpa Chieftains. The Tulsans won over the Bartlesville Wildcats, 19-0; the Classen Comets, 6-0; the Bristow Purple Pirates, 20-6; the Okmulgee Bulldogs, 19-0; the Cushing Tigers, 26-0; the Oklahoma City Cardinals, 14-7; and the Ponca City Wildcats, 21-7. The gridsters lost their only game to the Muskogee Roughers, 13-0, and this defeat cost them the all-state title.

Twenty-eight Crimson and Cream warriors were awarded athletic T's. Participation in varsity games, team play, and sportsmanship were the chief points considered by the coaches in granting these awards.

Mr. James assumed the duties of head coach for the first time, and was ably assisted by Melvin E. Riggs, line coach; Otto J. Endres, and William C. Lantz.

1934-35 Basketball Team

THE TULSA HIGH SCHOOL cagers completed the 1934-35 campaign with a record of 17 games won and 5 lost. Under the supervision of Grady Skillern, coach, the Tulsans won the district tournament at Sand Springs, the regional tournament at Tulsa, and the Oklahoma Six Conference.

In the course of their cage battles the Braves defeated the Cushing team 34-12; Capitol Hill, 23-22; Okmulgee, 41-11; Sapulpa, 44-23; Bristow, 38-16; Blackwell, 31-23; Sapulpa, 31-30; Muskogee, 24-15; Bartlesville, 33-20; Okmulgee, 39-25; Bristow, 28-23; and they ended the season by conquering Bartlesville 35-30. The Tulsans were defeated by the Muskogee team 24-22; by the Enid cagers 28-20; Oklahoma City Central, 30-21; and Classen, 28-25. In the tournaments the Braves defeated the Clinton cagers 28-7; Jenks, 49-20; Sand Springs, 29-22; Dewey, 20-19; and Commerce, 43-17. The Muskogee Roughers eliminated the Tulsans from the state tournament by defeating them 26-17.

BASKETBALL LETTERMEN

First row—Harold Pilkington, Stanley Henson, Norman Secrest, Thomas Sparks, Harold Byrd, Bill Peck.

1934-35 Wrestling Team

FOR TEN consecutive years under the guidance of Art Griffith, the high school wrestling team has not lost a match at home. For eight consecutive years the Braves have won all of its dual contests, both at home and away. This year the Braves won the mythical all-state title by piling up 54 points in the district and 30 points in the state tournaments.

The Tulsans defeated the Sapulpa high school 41-0; Clinton, 27-0; Capitol Hill, 39-0; Ponca City, 18-0; Cushing, 25-3; and Stillwater high school, 32-0.

1934-1935 Swimming Team

Under the leadership of M. J. Nolan and Wayne Shrodes, co-captains, the 1934-35 swimming team competed in eight dual meets, winning five and losing three. The Tulsans competed in correspondence meets with the high schools in Chisholm, Virginia, and Hibbing, Minnesota, and won from the first two.

The Tulsa tanksters won the meets held with the Independence high school, 56-18; Wichita North High, 56-19; Wichita East High, 44-31; Independence high school, 48-23; and Wichita East High, 54-21. All three meets with the University Club were lost.

The 1935 lettermen include John Bankston, John Freeman, Bob Gibson, Robert Harmon, Leroy Mehlhorn, Fred Mott, M. J. Nolan, George Pfannkuck, Wayne Shrodes, Travis Thrall, and Howard Walkup.

Because no other Oklahoma high schools are known to have swimming teams, competition was confined to the University Club, out of state schools, and correspondence meets with schools in northern Minnesota and the Masabi Iron Range District.

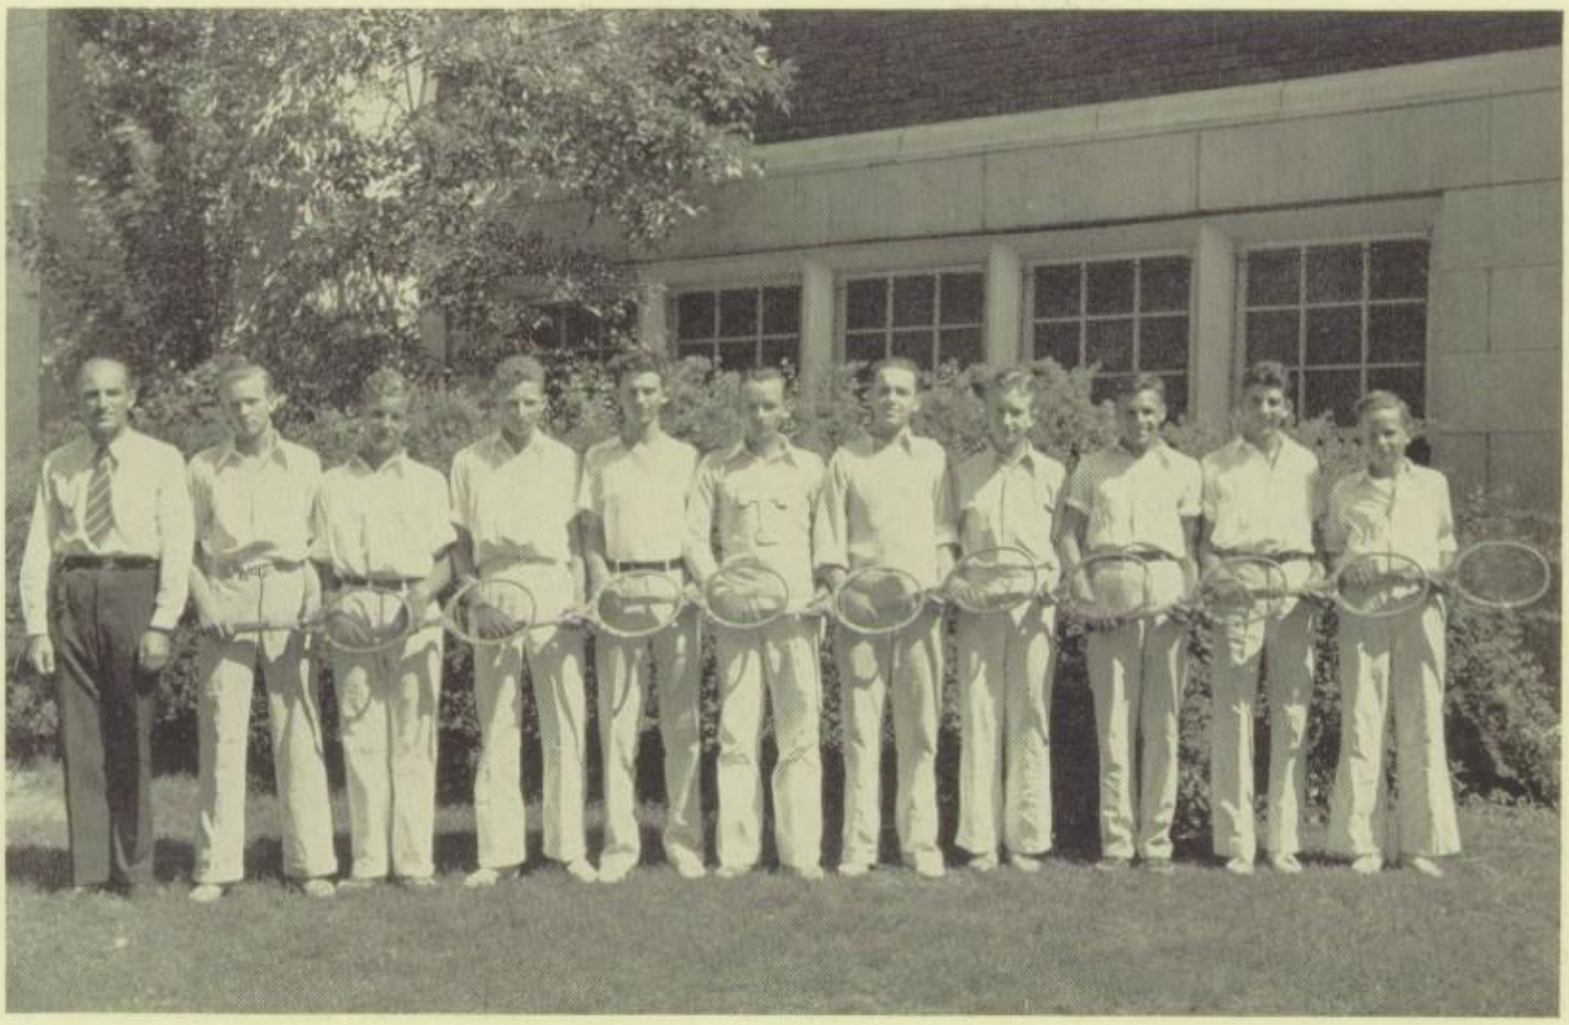
1934 Track Team

TO WIN their fifth consecutive state championship, and to capture first place honors in the University of Arkansas meet, the Tonkawa meet, the Central Conference tourney, the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College relays, and the Oklahoma Six tourney is the brilliant record established by the Tulsa Central high school trackmen last season under the guidance of William C. Lantz.

The Central thinclads defeated the Cleveland high school track men 76-49 in the only dual meet on the Braves' schedule.

The members of the varsity track squad awarded letters for the outstanding performances which they registered during competitions include Francis Best, Joe Byrd, Henry Casey, Jack Clark, Edwin Coatney, John Ferguson, Hugh Lyons, Allen Mayo, Louis Medlin, Victor Nelson, Jim Shillings, and Julius Symonds.



OTTO J. ENDRES, coach; Gene Roop, M. C. Hopper, Elmer Livingstone, Tom Goebel, Bob Demaree, Frank Lewis, Jack Skelley, Julian Blake, Sam Potts, Atkins Goodwin.

1934 Tennis Team

CAPTURING six singles and four doubles championships in tournament competition, and registering victories in eight of their nine dual meets, the Tulsa Central high school tennis team, under the guidance of Otto J. Endres, coach, enjoyed an unusually successful season. Bob Demaree, captain, won the singles laurels in the Arkansas University Invitation meet held at Fayetteville; the Interstate invitation tourney, held at Tulsa; and the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College contest at Stillwater.

In the Central Conference tournament held at Tulsa Julian Blake was the singles winner; Frank Lewis captured the singles title in the Oklahoma Six Conference meet at Tulsa; and Atkins Goodwin took the singles crown in the East Central Teachers Invitation meet held at Ada. The Braves' doubles team, Bob Demaree and Atkins Goodwin, won the doubles laurels in the Central Conference tourney. At the East Central Teachers Invitation meet Gene Roop and Elmer Livingstone combined to capture the doubles championship. A third doubles team, Elmer Livingstone and Tom Goebel, won first place honors in their event in the Oklahoma Six contest.

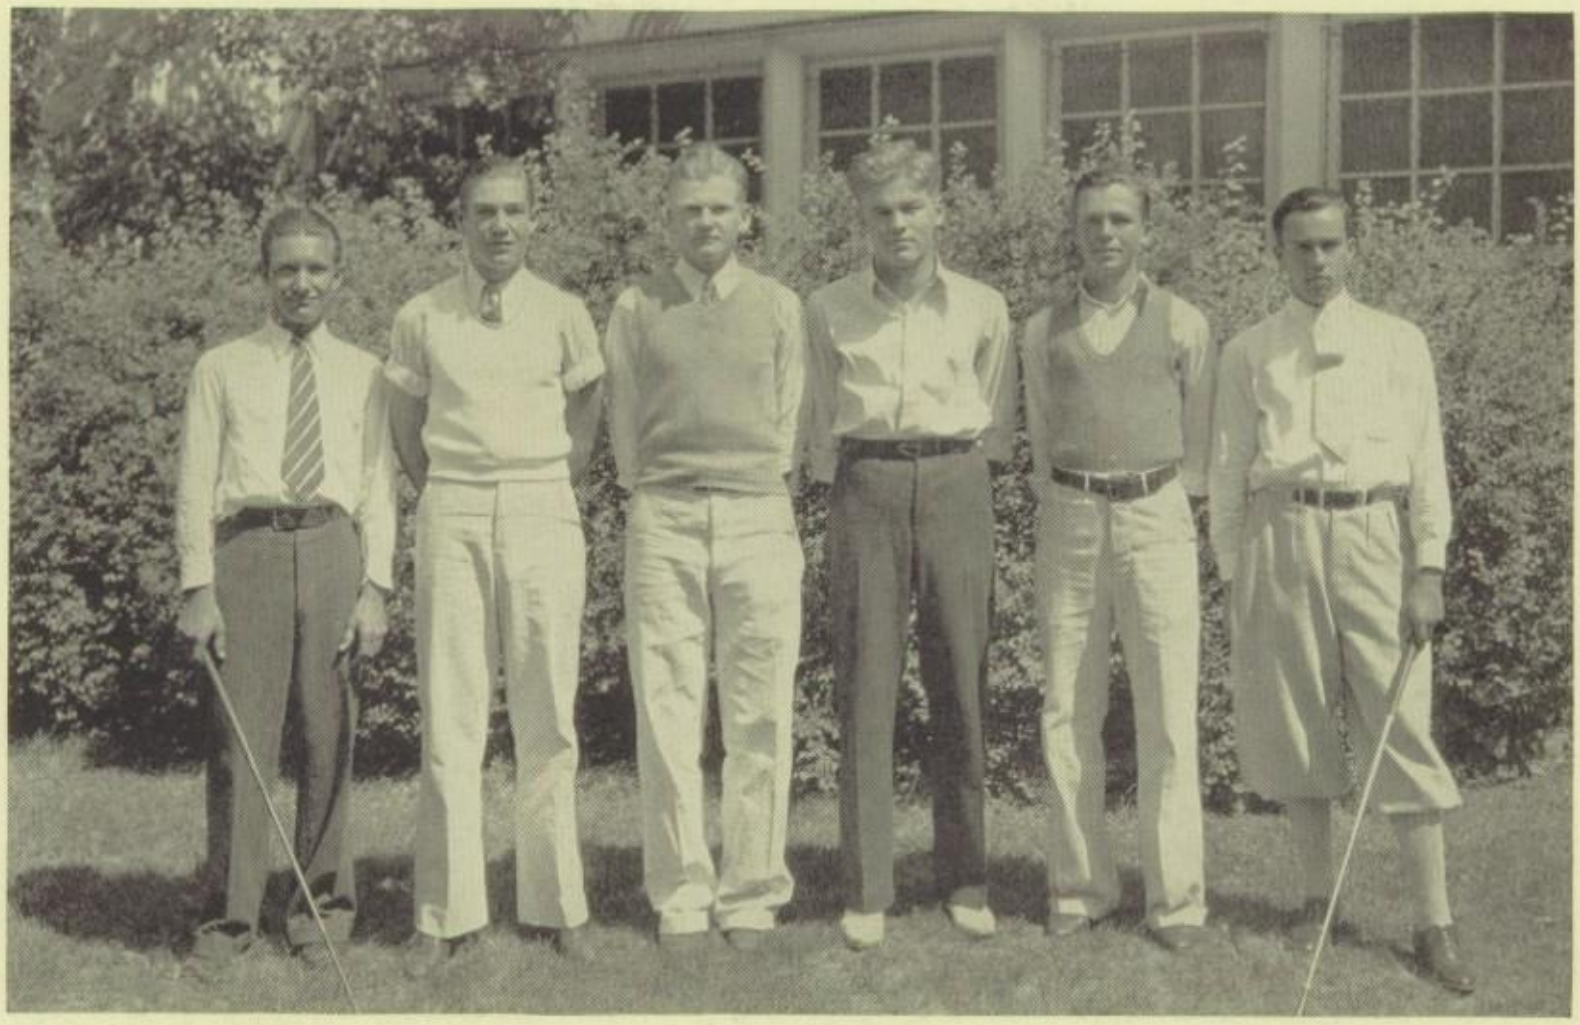
1934 Baseball Team

Under the leadership of Ab Young, coach, and Jim Shilling, captain, the 1934 baseball team of Tulsa Central high school won four games and lost six.

In the first game of the season the Tulsa Braves suffered a 10-7 defeat from the Oilton nine; in the next, the Oklahoma City Cardinals handed the Tulsans a 2-1 defeat. During the remainder of the season the Braves conquered the Ponca City Wildcats twice, 10-7 and 2-1; the Stillwater team, 8-4; and the Dale nine, 18-4. The Braves were defeated by the Sand Springs Sandites, 11-9, and by the Oklahoma City Cardinals three times, 2-1, 5-0, and 13-10.

Twelve boys who were awarded letters in baseball are Gus Baker, Jim Shilling, Dale Barnett, Ishmael Been, Martin Brown, Clarence Buker, Jack Land, Deener Morris, Warren Morris, Alvin Perry, John Reed, and Emerson Roberts.



Dave Moss, Ed Gwin, Barney Rauch, Sam Mayfield, John Brown, Clifford Kennedy

1934 Golf Team

Six Tulsa Central high school athletes were awarded letters for skill which they displayed on the golf links in establishing their fourth consecutive season of undefeated dual meet competition and in winning first place in the Central Conference and Oklahoma Six meets.

The Braves opened the season with a 15-3, 16½-1½, triumph over the Clinton high school aggregation. In the first two meets with the Bartlesville high school team, the Braves tied the Wildcats 6-6 and defeated them 6½-5½ in the second match. To close the season the Clinton high school golfers fell under the expert stroking of the Braves to a tune of 8½-3½.

Art Griffith served as coach of the Braves and Sam Mayfield captained them in the tournaments. The lettermen include Jack Brown, Ed Gwin, Clifford Kennedy, Sam Mayfield, Dave Moss, and Barney Rauch.

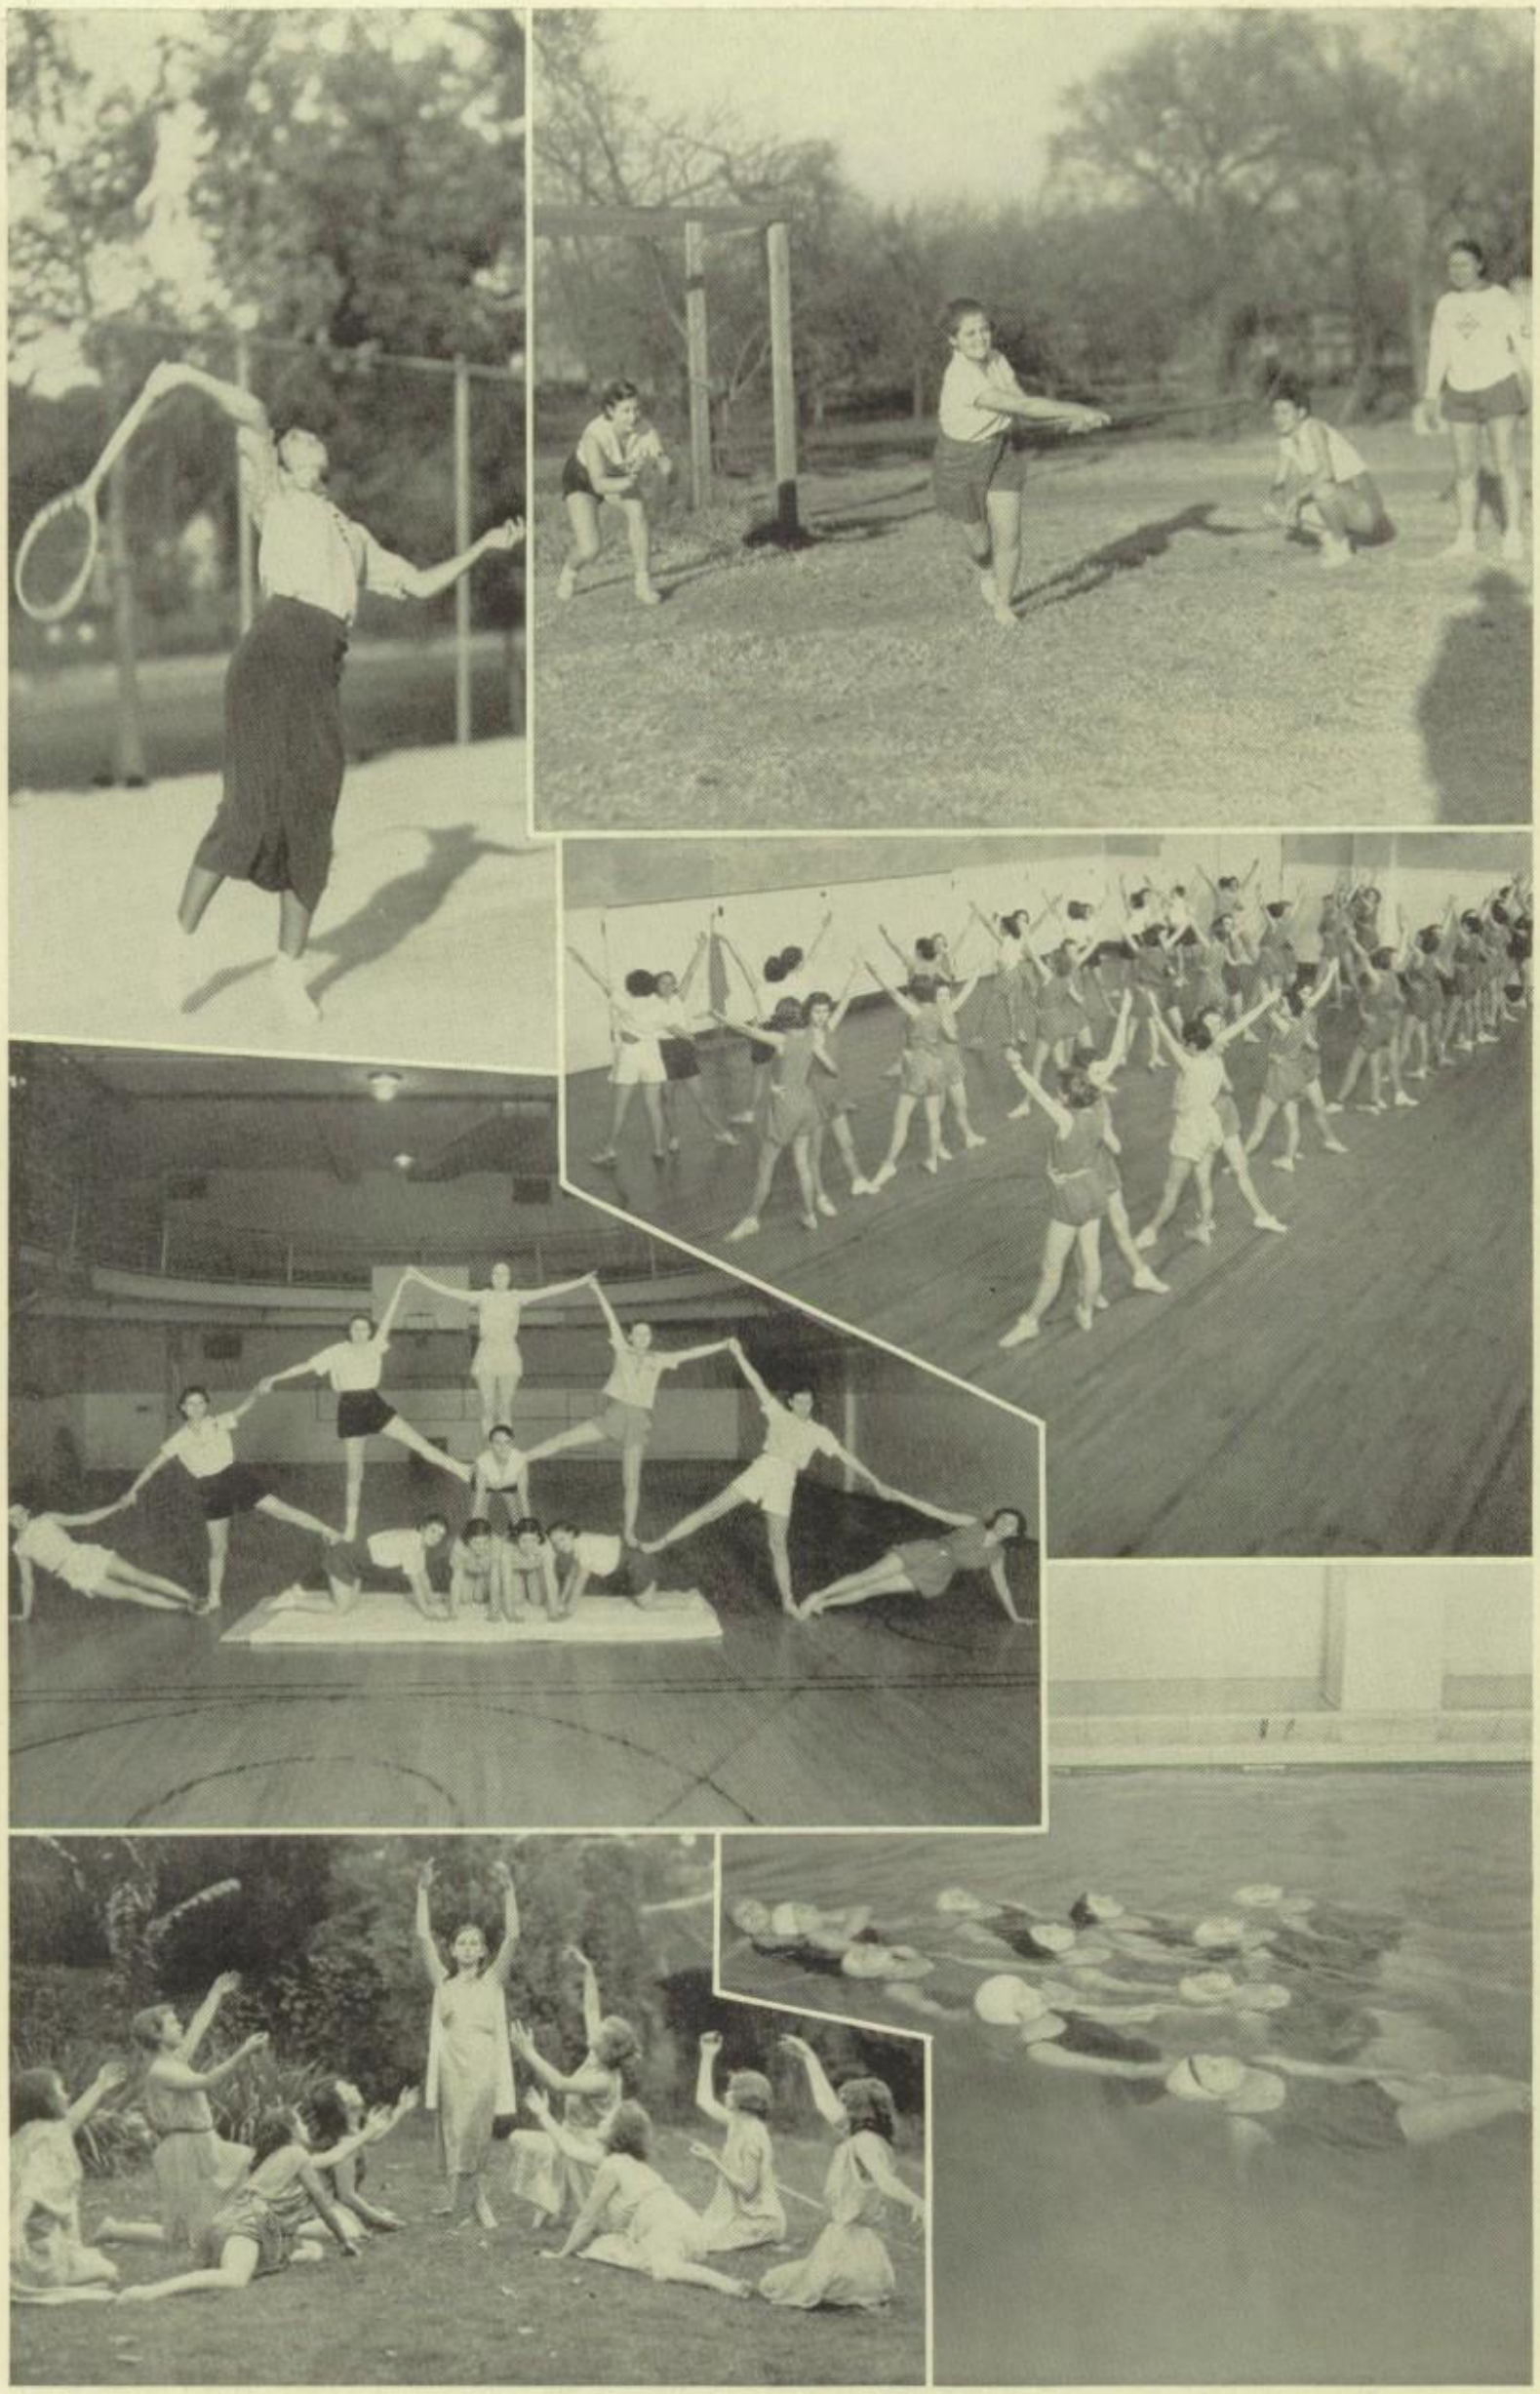
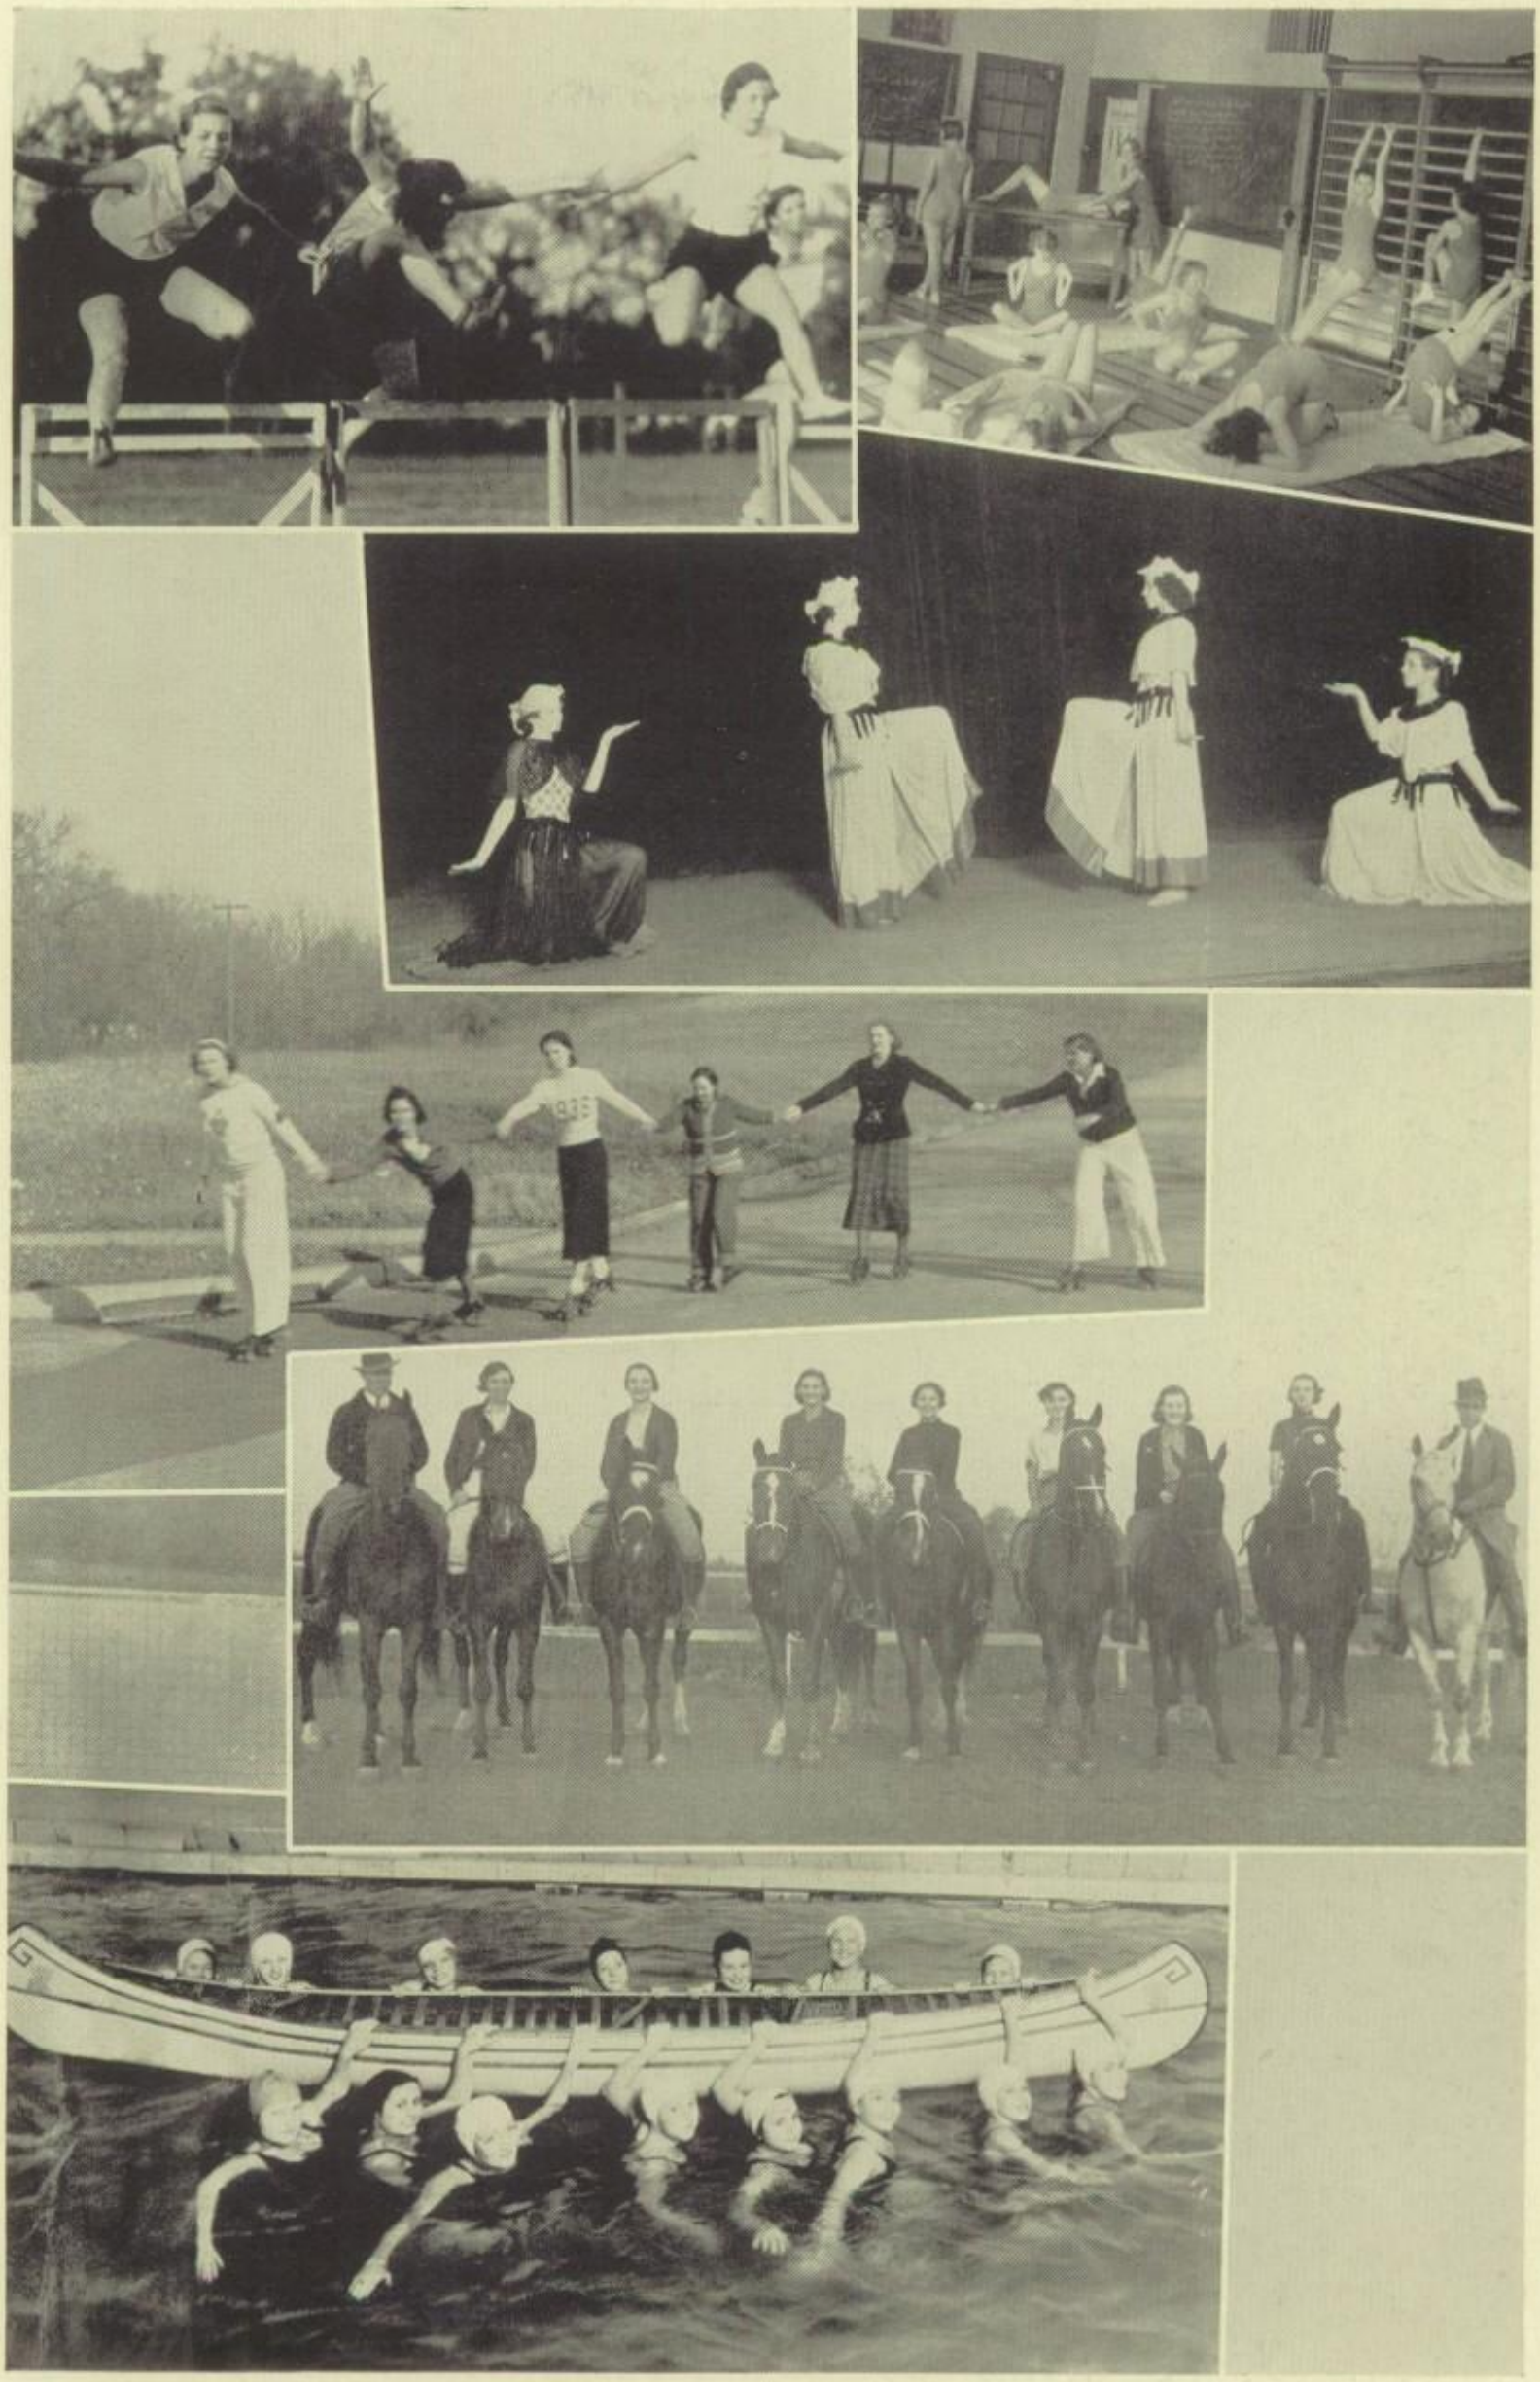
PHYSICAL EDUCATION FOR GIRLS



AN ACTIVITY FOR EVERY GIRL

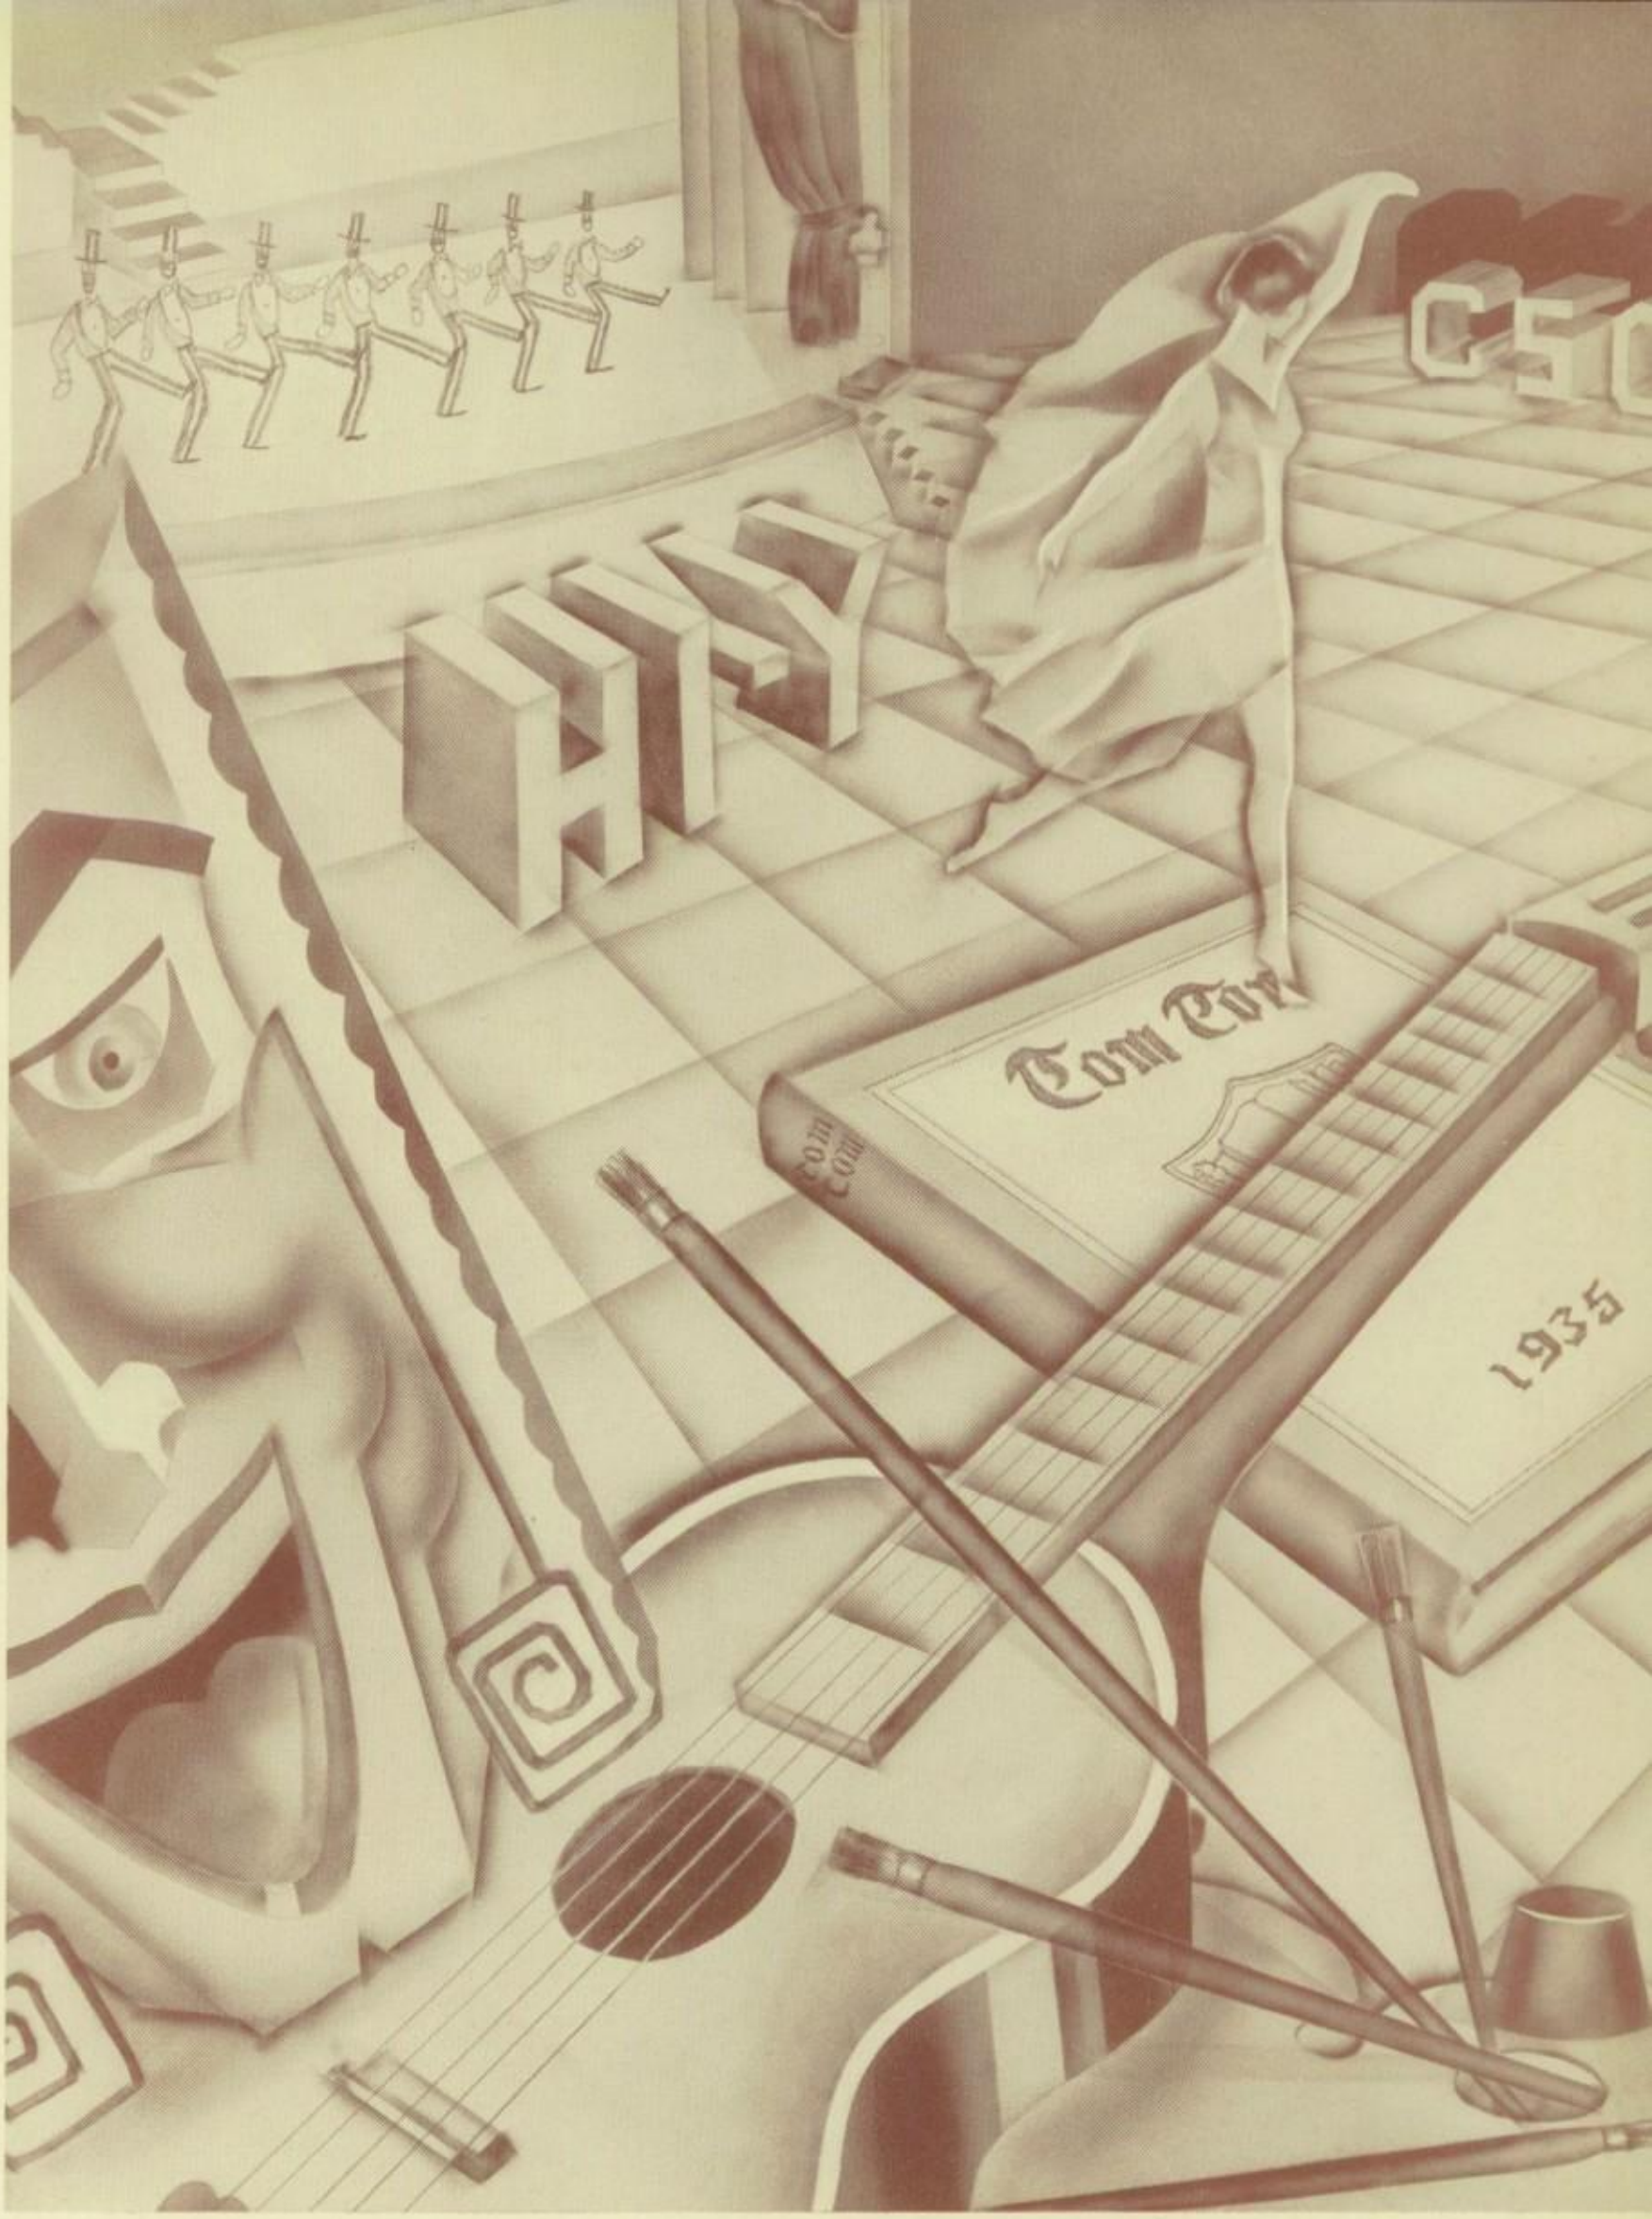


GIRLS' INTERESTS ARE VARIED

Girls' Physical Education

THE AIM of the physical education department for girls in Central high school is to provide adequate facilities that will afford opportunities for the girls to participate in varied activities which are physically wholesome, mentally stimulating, and socially sound. The program then is wide; and swimming, tennis, interpretative dancing, folk dancing, hockey, baseball, horseback riding, games, individual gymnastics, rest, life saving, and archery are offered. At the beginning and end of each year a physical examination is given each girl which includes the silhouetteograph picture. The twenty who deviate most from the normal are placed in the individual gymnasium class, where each girl receives individual attention and where exercises are given to suit the needs of each. A rest room is provided for girls returning from operations or illness and for heart cases.

An intramural program of sports is sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Association. Sports in season are offered and tournaments between the classes scheduled. The Outing Club sponsors all unorganized sports, such as hiking, roller skating, ice skating, and boating. Joy and self-expression are afforded each girl who participates in the sports program and interpretative dancing.



ACTIVITIES

PAUL CHASTAIN

ACTIVITIES

MAN'S existence is centered about his activities. Without diverting interests, his life becomes useless and barren. He becomes affiliated with social, civic, political, educational, and religious organizations, thus avoiding what might otherwise be an empty life.

Central high school, realizing that alert, eager students demand activities in order to round out their lives, has formed many associations. Through these, students may show their abilities and receive credit for their willingness to work. Honorary socities, clubs through which leadership is demonstrated, musical organizations, dramatics, and publications are among the activities in which students may participate.

Aiding in the selection of vocations and supplying disciplinary leadership, Tulsa Central high school through its activities, is performing a splendid patriotic service by rightly moulding the citizens of tomorrow.

National Honor Society

The Tulsa chapter of the National Honor Society was chartered December 19, 1923. The purpose of this organization as defined in its constitution "shall be to create enthusiasm for scholarship, and to develop character in the student of the American secondary school."

A student receives the honor of election to membership in the society when he has "exhibited qualities of superior scholarship, trustworthy leadership, exemplary character, a spirit of unselfish service and loyal student citizenship during his high school course."

This year the organization sponsored a successful drive for clothing and shoes for indigent students.

Senate

To offer a means for cooperation between the students and the faculty, to be a medium of service to the high school, to promote high scholarship, and to investigate student problems, the Senate, student control body of Tulsa Central high school, was formed in 1920, under the guidance of Mrs. Louise Dodge Whitham, the present sponsor. Other sponsors of the organization have been Mrs. Blanche Mullen Wood and Mrs. Floy Elliott Cobb.

The membership of the Senate includes the president and two members from each high school organization and class, and three students elected from the school at large.

The Senate is the fostering and directing body of all school organizations and classes. This year in an assembly program the Senate formally recognized all school organizations and presented them with a charter.

Senate

The members of this student control body are pledged to aid in faithfully upholding the organization and in developing desirable attitudes in the high school.

Senatorial positions are major offices. Installation and administration of the oaths of offices of all recognized organizations are made by the Senate.

The designing of the high school seal and crest was promoted by the Senate, and it initiated the High School Daze, the second-hand book store, the Associated Students' Activities Budget, and numerous bills regulating the conduct of the student body.

The Senate has had a prominent part in the growth of student participation in the control of Central high school.

House of Representatives

The aim of the House is to promote a higher degree of democracy both in government and school thought, and its purpose is to increase student participation in school activities. Since 1925 this body has been rated the most representative and democratic of any organization in the high school.

The House is an open forum in which the problems of the school are discussed and in which the representatives present the desires of the school organizations and home rooms. Discussions follow suggestions and school-wide attitudes are formed, which are carried back to the home room to complete the cycle of democratic thought.

High scholastic and citizenship standings are necessities for each member of the House of Representatives.

House of Representatives

The House was organized in the fall of 1923. Each home room is allowed one representative who must meet the requirements of a major office holder. An exception is made in the case of the sophomore class members, who are elected after the first nine weeks' grades have been received.

The duties of the House members are diversified. Representatives of the organization rearrange the trophy rooms when necessary; and they also manage the lost and found department. Since two members serve on the extracurricular committee, each student has, in an indirect way, a part in the extracurricular program of the high school.

Sessions of the House are held on even Tuesdays of every month, and Mrs. Minnie Mae Summers, the dean of girls, acts as sponsor

Courtesy Service Club

To assist in keeping the high school building clean, and in maintaining order by stationing its members in the corridors during class periods, at cafeteria doors throughout the lunch period, and at the entrances to the auditorium at assemblies and plays are the duties of the members of the Courtesy Service Club.

Among the manifold purposes of the club are the promotion of a feeling of good fellowship among the students and faculty, the stimulation of high ideals, and the encouragement of student participation in the school government.

This year the organization sponsored the first student dance to be held in Tulsa Central high school in a number of years. The affair received much favorable comment.

Courtesy Service Club

So numerous did the students of Central high school become in 1925 that a need was felt for a group of volunteers to aid in preserving order, in directing students and patrons around the building, and also to further high community ideals. Thus the Courtesy Service Club was organized, with L. W. Lavengood, then dean of boys, as its sponsor. He was succeeded by F. J. Reynolds, the present sponsor and dean of boys.

The membership of the Courtesy Service Club is limited to juniors and seniors who have passing grades in all subjects the semester they apply to the organization, and who have had no failures the previous semester.

They must have high qualities of trustworthy service and good citizenship. The organization is one of the largest in the school.

International Club

The International Club, an affiliate of the World League of International Educational Associations, was organized in 1933 by history students who wished to study international affairs.

Through discussions led by noted authorities and by designated students, and through correspondence with foreign students, the International Club has greatly stimulated interest in international problems.

The sponsor, Miss Lavonne Hanna, of the history department, has stimulated student interest in world affairs, and given generously of her time and energy.

Advertising Board

The purpose of the Advertising Board, which was organized in the spring of 1930, is to promote publicity for all non-class productions in Tulsa Central high school, by directing ticket sales and advertising.

The members are representatives from the Senate, Tulsa School Life, the art department, Speakers Bureau, Stagecraft, manual arts department, the sophomore, junior, and senior classes, and representatives selected from the school at large.

A representative to the Board is selected because of his willingness to work, his high character and satisfactory scholarship. Since its formation, the Board has had J. Roy Inbody as its faculty sponsor.

Speakers' Bureau

Organized in 1924, the primary purpose of the Speakers' Bureau is to develop orators and debaters who will be a credit to Tulsa Central high school.

Since its initiation into extracurricular activities, it has attained a foremost position among the school organizations, and from it have come winners in dramatic reading contests, state oration tilts, and members on debate teams of many eastern colleges.

This year, sponsored by Miss Alphild Larson, members of the Bureau have been active in assembly programs as chairmen and student speakers.

In giving hundreds of speeches to more than twenty-five civic and social organizations, they have made themselves invaluable as an advertising medium of extracurricular activities.

A Cappella Choir

The A Cappella Choir, which was formerly a combination of the Orpheus and the Saint Cecilian organizations, is now an independent organization. The term "A Cappella" means literally "in the style of the church," but the modern meaning is "unaccompanied by any instrument." All rehearsals and public appearances are conducted in A Cappella style, and the repertoire of the choir includes some of the finest known examples of this type of musical literature. There is a genuine attempt to instill in others a deeper appreciation of the harmony of mixed voices. Robed in maroon vestments, the choir contributes to the music life of the schools, churches, and civic organizations of Tulsa.

Orpheus Club

A select group of fifty well-trained boys who have distinguished themselves in vocal music compose the Orpheus Club of Tulsa Central high school. Reorganized in 1927, the name was changed from the Hi-Glee Club to the Orpheus Club, taking its name from Orpheus, a Thracian poet and musician, who was said to be the son of Apollo.

Membership in the Orpheus Club is based on vocal qualifications, ability, musicianship, personal citizenship, and general scholarship. The club is under the direction of George Oscar Bowen, and has helped in the production of The Messiah, the minstrel, and various civic clubs in the city, and radio audiences.

The pin of the club is in the shape of an oval on which is engraved the lyre of Orpheus.

Saint Cecilians

The Saint Cecilians are a group of approximately forty girls, who are selected for their musical qualifications, their all-around scholarship, and their good citizenship. Each member must have had at least one year of elementary or intermediate glee club training.

The Saint Cecilians offer their interpretations of the compositions of great masters in radio programs, on general assembly programs, before church groups, and at meetings of civic organizations.

St. Cecilia, to whom the organization pays tribute in its name, is regarded as the patron saint of music, especially of sacred music.

Band

Central high school's band, composed this year of approximately one hundred members, has appeared more than fifty times at public functions, and more than one hundred times on school programs, at athletic events, at civic and public concerts, parades, and conventions. Band equipment, which includes uniforms and instruments, is valued at thousands of dollars. The repertoire of the band includes most of the standard and classical compositions that have been arranged for concert and band use.

Alphabetically arranged the members of the orchestra are: Catherine Alspaugh, James Argue, Miriam Bailey, Warren Bailey, Charlene Barber, Marguerite Barnard, Myer Bello, Betty Joe Bond, Martha Briggs, Malcolm Caffee, Bill Calhoun, Colin Campbell, Gertrude Cassady, Andy Clark, Lucia Jane Clark, Harry Colvin, Irene Cooper, Joe Cooper, Elizabeth Crosbie, Derry Deardorff, Don Deweese, Pauline Finkle, Evelyn Frost, John A. Green, Don Hall, Winnell Ham, Jean Harris, Palmerine Hicks, Garland Hatfield, Ruth Herrick, Mildred Hodges, Clifford Huddleston, Lenore Hunter, Barbara Hutchcraft, Dorothy Jean Impey, Virginia Jarrell, Marjorie Jones, Walter Kessler, Edward La Cour, Dorothy Langley, Donald Lewis, Sara Lisle, Robert Maples, David McClain, Ruth McCray, Ruth Means, George Michael, Ann Murphy, Marcella Palmer, Lloyd Patton, Katheryn Phelps, Orris Porter, Mary Helene Ralston, Marion Rhoades, R. R. Vandersall, Lee Walker, Eugene Wilson, Marjorie Bell, Jim E. Hudson.

Orchestra

The Advanced Orchestra is a complete symphonic group, both as to instrumentation and as to proficiency in performance. Membership is gained through at least one year's experience in the elementary orchestra, or similar training, making it necessary that each instrumentalist be excellent in performance.

The aims of the orchestra are, first of all, to be of genuine service to Tulsa Central high school, to create a deeper and more intelligent appreciation of good music, and to afford its members such training as can be duplicated only in professional fields.

Celesta Club

The Celesta club, an organization of girls which succeeded the Girl Reserves, was recognized by the Senate in 1930. Its purpose is to help girls discover an outlet for their interests through educational programs and discussions.

The members promote friendliness through social functions and make efforts to become better acquainted with girls new to the school. Each year a reception is held for new sophomores and another for the girls new to Central high school.

The service of members of the Celesta club are shown by their contributions to the student aid fund, which they obtain by managing the second-hand book store.

Girl Scouts

The Girl Scout club of Tulsa high school is a branch of the National Girl Scout organization and was first recognized as a high school organization by the Senate in 1925.

The club is intensely interested in service to the school and contributes to student aid by helping defray expenses of girls through school.

Through various and interesting activities the members of the club create, maintain, and extend high standards of Girl Scout fellowship.

To become a member of the organization, a girl must be less than 18 years of age and promise to live up to Girl Scout standards.

Bravettes

Reorganized in 1930, the T Walkers club became the Bravettes, taking the name from the fact that the high school athletic teams are known as the Central high school Braves.

Their activities include ushering at high school entertainments, at the general assemblies, and at commencement exercises.

The purpose of the club is to promote high ideals of scholarship, good sportsmanship, and a feeling of loyalty and interest through their diversified activities.

Their uniforms consist of crimson skirts, berets, and cream-colored sweaters with Indian head emblems attached.

Student Custodians

Adding to the comfort and pleasure of Centralites, the Student Custodians of Tulsa Central high school perform their various duties conscientiously and expertly as they renovate and clean the building.

Of all the high school organizations, the Student Custodians, who work an average of three hours daily, is the most vital one to the health and attitudes of the students in the school.

The boys repair and keep clean 106 rooms, the two auditoriums, the cafeteria, the gymnasiums, corridors, steps, and storerooms.

The idea of having the Student Custodians was originally conceived as a means of furnishing employment for high school boys who might find the expenses of high school beyond their means.

Camerata

The Camerata club, one of the newest clubs in Tulsa Central high school, was organized to promote friendship and high standards among the girls of Central high school.

Membership in the club is limited to girls in the junior and senior classes who have no failing grades for the preceding semester. The club is under the faculty supervision of Miss Jennie Livingstone.

Stagecraft

To become a member of the Stagecraft club one must work on trial for thirty hours, and then have his application approved by the other members of the organization. To be eligible for the club, he must be making passing grades in every subject. All the labor of the club is done after or before school hours.

A few of the duties of the club are to change scenery between acts of plays, to work with stage settings, to afford proper lighting to the stage, to form the drops and scenery which compose the background, and to prepare the stage for presentations of various sorts.

The Scalpers, official pep organization for boys in Central high school, was organized in the fall of 1931 to build up, maintain, and extend a higher standard of school spirit and sportsmanship among the students.

Under the direction of Oscar Irizarry, the Scalpers have continued to promote the standards which they have established; the club has an enviable reputation and has become a necessary and worthy addition to the extracurricular activities of the school.

Scalpers

Selected from the leaders of the student body, this year there are approximately one hundred members in the organization. A boy must have a good citizenship record and a passing grade in three solid subjects to be eligible for membership. In addition, before becoming a member, each boy must serve a pledgeship of at least six weeks, and three-fourths of the members of the club must approve his application.

Their uniforms consist of red flannel shirts and tan corduroy slacks.

To give recognition to students for outstanding work in any field of academic or athletic endeavor, to provide an opportunity for self-development in service, and to promote social relationships, the T club has maintained an important position in Central high school since its organization in 1920.

Academic T's are awarded each spring as a result of special contests in all departments or special achievement in some field. Athletic T's are presented throughout the school year for participation on the interscholastic athletic teams.

T Club

In its meetings and through its activties, the T club endeavors to create closer social relationships among students of Central high school. The T club convenes at home room period on the first and third Wednesdays of each month throughout the year. M. E. Hurst serves as the faculty sponsor.

In previous years the organization has presented to the school such outstanding contributions as the flags for the south auditorium, the north auditorium curtains, homecomings, dramatic productions, and donations to the memorial organ fund.

Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association, a member of the National Amateur Athletic Federation, was organized in 1925 to promote higher physical efficiency among its members, and to emphasize the qualities of sportsmanship among the girls of Central high school.

Membership in the organization is open to any girl who has been in the high school one semester, who is a participant in at least three sports a year, and who has earned five athletic points.

Awards are given to the members according to their accomplishments. The block T is the highest award made for athletic achievement in the organization. The Boswell trophy cup is awarded annually to the senior girl who has secured the most athletic points and who has the highest scholarship average.

The Letterman's Athletic Association was organized to take the place of the Boys' Athletic Council in 1930. Only boys who have distinguished themselves by acquiring an athletic T are privileged to become members of the organization. Promotion of athletic events, good sportsmanship, and congenial companionship are fundamental functions of the association.

Under the guidance of Grady Skillern, the members successfully strive to uphold the traditionally high standards of Tulsa Central high school.

Keystoners

To create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character as their aim, a group of high school girls founded the Keystoner Hi-Y club in the fall of the year 1933.

Through the untiring guidance of Mrs. Max Morrison the Keystoners have won for themselves a respected position in the eyes of the school and the city.

Membership in the Keystoners is limited to junior and senior girls who have shown an earnest desire to live up to the ideals and purpose of the club.

Keystoners

The Keystoner Hi-Y club, the only girls' Hi-Y club in Oklahoma, is sponsored by the Tulsa chapter of the Y.M.C.A.

Through their diversified program, including sponsoring book reviews, speakers, charity work, religious work, and social activities, the members of this club are paving the way for universal Christian character.

Although this club has not yet passed its second birthday it is one of the most active of the high school organizations and its membership has grown from twenty-two to one hundred thirty-seven.

Hi-Y Club

The Junior-Senior Hi-Y club, one of the most active of the high school organizations, is sponsored by the Oklahoma state Hi-Y organization through the Tulsa chapter of the Y.M.C.A.

Since its organization in 1915, its purpose has been to create, maintain, and extend the high standards of Christian fellowship throughout the school and community. W. H. Hake, J. L. Goff, Rector Swearengin, and Max Morrison have served as sponsors.

Membership in the club is limited to junior and senior boys who are passing in all their subjects and who have shown a desire to uphold the Hi-Y purpose.

Hi-Y Club

The most outstanding event on this year's program was the membership drive the Hi-Y members sponsored for the Y.M.C.A. They passed their goal of three hundred paid memberships with flying colors. As a means of spreading spiritual interest the members of the organization gave a series of Lenten broadcasts.

With its varied program this organization is rapidly increasing in favor with high school boys who recognize that it gives desirable spiritual and social contacts for all members.

Tom Tom

The first yearbook of Tulsa Central high school was published in 1909; the twenty-seventh Tom Tom class selected Social Values of Education as Exemplified in Character and Service as its theme.

The Tom Tom serves as a memory book for sophomores, juniors, seniors, and members of the faculty. This record of school activities is the work of three groups: the editorial class, the art class, and the high school print shop.

The faculty adviser of the editorial staff is Miss Jean Roberts, Miss Lucile Adams directs the art class, and W. W. Graham is director of printing and engraving.

Tulsa School Life

Endeavoring to publish all school news, to encourage higher scholarship, and to train students in the fundamentals of journalism, Tulsa School Life, the four-page newspaper of Central high school, is published weekly by members of the staff in cooperation with the members of the high school print shop force.

A pre-requisite for membership on the staff of the newspaper is the course in College English VJ. Positions on the editorial and business staff are filled by appointments, and are held as long as satisfactory work is submitted.

For five years the Tulsa School Life has been rated the best student newspaper in Oklahoma by the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association, and for a number of years it has been judged an All-American publication.

Central Civic Council

The Central Civic Council is a democratic organization formed in the earlier part of the school year by students interested in public affairs.

Their purpose is to act as a clearing house for the presentation of informative reading material and to devise methods of bringing pressure to bear on officials to make proper influence felt, thus developing a really effective citizenship. In order to carry out this objective, outside speakers are invited to talk at the meetings and discussions are held by the members.

The meetings are held on the first three Mondays of each month, under the faculty supervision of Miss Emily Powell.

Parent-Teachers Association Board

Through the ages parents and teachers have desired a closer contact with the children and pupils entrusted to their care. In Tulsa in 1920, the elders desired a closer comradeship with their children and from this desire there emanated an organization, the Parent-Teachers Association, whose purpose it is to create the desired friendship between students, teachers, and parents. Members of the organization give generously of their time and energy toward the promotion of the best interests of the school and community.

The high school adult organization offers scholarships and augments the student aid fund, but the feeling of friendship which it has established between parents, teachers, and students is worth immeasurably more than the monetary aid which it gives to Central high school.

FEATURES

FEATURES

REALIZING that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy Centralites find time in the midst of curricular and extracurricular activities to enjoy participation in the informal side of school life.

Aware of the demand for an opportunity for congenial association the patronesses of the junior and senior classes this year have sponsored student dances after school in the girls' gymnasium. Clubs and home rooms encourage after school hikes, early morning breakfasts, swimming parties, and picnics. Groups of students interested in amateur photography, camp craft, radio, and science, find opportunity to pursue their ambitions.

Participation in the activities of the high school helps to develop those qualities that make high school students good citizens of the community in which they live.
